4.2 Information we collect when you visit or create an account on our websites

We use cookies and other technologies to collect information when you visit our web sites, including when you make use of our on line chat.

We may collect personal information in connection with your use of our website, such as:

- your name, email address, telephone number and property address when you register for an account or use an online form to arrange a viewing, register for property alerts, request a valuation
- data sent from your browser to our server which may include:
 - the time, date and duration of your visit
 - the site from which you have come (the referral URL)
 - the pages you have visited and
 - your IP address

Details of how we use cookies are provided in Section 13 'Our Use of Cookies' and in our Cookies Policy

4.3 Information we obtain from other Connells Group companies

For activities related to providing advice on regulated mortgages and non-investment insurance contracts, Sequence (UK) Limited are an appointed representative of Connells Limited, and may share your information within the Group.

Connells Ltd is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority; the Financial Services Register number is 302221.

4.4 Information we obtain from on line portals

Where you contact by providing your details through on line portals such as Rightmove or Zoopla, we will use the details to contact you to provide the services you have requested.

4.5 Information we obtain from third parties

Where we are required by law, or for business needs, we will obtain information about you from third parties, but only after we have your agreement to do so. For example (but not limited to) the third parties we may need to contact are credit reference agencies, banks, employers, accountants and solicitors in order to obtain references, undertake identity verification and basic criminal record checks, and validate your income level and financial history.

4.6 Circumstances under which criminal disclosures will be collected

The arrangement of certain types of insurance may involve disclosure by you to us of information relating to historic or current criminal convictions or offences. This is relevant to insurance related activities such as underwriting, claims and fraud management.

When we process any Criminal Disclosures we do so on the basis that it is in the substantial public interest to be able to provide vital insurance products as permitted by UK data protection related laws and regulations from time to time. Information on Criminal Disclosures must be capable of being exchanged freely between insurance intermediaries such as us and insurance providers, to enable customers to secure the important insurance protection that they require.

5. How we use your information

We will process the information you provide or we obtain from other sources to provide you with products and services and answer any questions you may have.

The following are examples of how we use the information we collect:

- To process your registration and confirm your identity

12. Your statutory rights

You have a number of rights concerning the personal information we use. These include the right to:

- ask us for access to a copy of your personal information we hold about you
- ask us to correct your personal information
- ask us to delete your personal information

You can delete your online account at any time. This will delete any personal information in your account that we have about you, and it will mean any data about how you've used the online account will be made anonymous.

However, deleting your online account will not delete any data you've shared with us for reasons that are not connected with your online account. If you wish us to delete your data which is unconnected with your online account, please contact us as described below

- withdraw your consent to use your personal information

Where you have provided consent for our processing of your personal data, you may withdraw that consent at any time. If you withdraw your consent, your previous consent will remain valid in respect of our use of your data in relation to good or service we are still contracted to provide

If you would prefer not to receive information from Sequence (UK) Limited or carefully selected third parties you can opt out by contacting your local Estate Agency Branch, or by emailing <https://managepreferences.co.uk/sequence>

We will act to respond to your request to stop receiving promotional email, phone, text or postal messages from Connells Group as quickly as is practicable (around 10 working days, as systems take time to replicate). We will keep information for record keeping purposes, to ensure we fulfil your request not to send particular types of messages.

- ask us to restrict the use of your personal data, including direct marketing
- object to our use of your personal data
- object to an automated decision, including profiling (for example, in terms of credit risk)
- lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office, if you object to the way we use your personal information. For more information please go to ico.org.uk

If you wish to make a request for access to a copy of your personal data, please write to the Connells Group at Group Legal Services, Bridgegate House, 5 Bridge Place, Lower Bridge Street, Chester CH1 1SA or email DSAR@connells.co.uk

Every effort will be made to respond to or comply with your request as quickly as possible, and we will ensure our systems are updated as soon as is practicable in response to your request.

13. Our use of cookies

A cookie is a small file placed on your device when you visit a website that can be understood by the site that issued the cookie. We use the information collected by cookies to remember who you are to log you in and to store your preferences when using a particular site. It may contain a unique identifier to ensure that you are not shown the same information and/or are only shown information you have stated that you are interested in.

Our security software may use your IP address and browser version to help protect our systems and provide diagnostic information in the case of an issue.

Further information about our use of cookies is provided in our Cookies Policy

14. How we protect your information

We store your personal information on our computer systems and in our paper records.

We have implemented strict security procedures to ensure that personal information is not damaged, destroyed or misused, and to prevent unauthorised access to your information.

The information that we collect is stored in a secure facility with restricted physical access.

We also use a number of security measures to prevent electronic access.

Where - in line with this Privacy Notice - information is shared with third parties, similar security measures are used to protect your information.

15. Data Transfers

If we need to transfer data outside the European Economic Area (EEA) and the country it's transferred to is not on an approved list for having adequate security controls in place, we will limit when we do this and the amount of personal data we send. We will also ensure that there is adequate protection in place before sending anything to other countries outside the EEA by imposing contractual obligations on the recipients to ensure the security and confidentiality of your data.

16. Children's privacy

We do not offer any products or services to children. In certain circumstances (for example a mortgage application) we may need to collect the name and date of birth of children from mortgage applicants, and share this with the selected mortgage provider.

17. Links to other websites

Our websites, other electronic portals and documentation may provide links to other websites for your convenience and information. These may operate independently from us and have their own privacy notices or policies, which we strongly suggest you review.

Where linked websites are not owned or controlled by us, we are not responsible for their content or data privacy practices.

18. Our Promise to you

When you provide us with this information, you agree to the collection, use and sharing of your information in accordance with this data privacy notice. Our promise to you is that

- We'll work with other businesses to put together offers we think you might like
- You are in control of your data
- You can change your privacy settings at any time

- If you don't think the data is correct tell us and we'll put it right
- We will keep your data secure
- We also promise to collect, process store and share your data safely and securely and to make sure the businesses we work with do the same

19. Updates to our Privacy Notice

We will occasionally update our Privacy Notice, so we suggest that you review this Notice from time to time.

Cookie Policy

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are downloaded and stored on your computer, tablet or smartphone by websites that you visit. These files are used to help the website work, provide information to the owners of the site or enhance your usage of the website.

A cookie records your preferences when using a particular site, ensuring that you are not shown the same information and/or are only shown information you have stated that you are interested in. In order to use the Site you agree to let cookies be saved as they are an important part of navigation of the Site.

The following are examples of information we may collect:

- Information about your device browser and operating system
- Your internet protocol (IP) address assigned to your internet service
- The web pages you visit on our websites
- Any embedded links you view

We also use the cookie to allow you to log into the MyAccount part of the site. This will store some personal information (e.g. first name, last name, email address, phone number) that may be used should you need to fill out an enquiry form. This information is removed when you log out of MyAccount, or when your session expires.

Different types of cookies

Our websites uses two different types of cookies.

First party cookies

These are cookies that are created by and placed on your computer by the owner of the website.

This type of cookie is usually essential to the running of the website as they ensure your security and privacy when you use our secure sites, as well as enabling you to move around a website and use its features. Without these cookies, services you've asked for (such as access to secure areas) can't be provided.

These cookies don't gather information about you that could be used for marketing or remembering where you've been on the internet.

Third party cookies

These are cookies that are managed by a third party but are placed on your computer by the owner of the website. This type of cookie is often used to help monitor activity on the website or to record how visitors to the website got there.

We may use cookies, tracking pixels and similar technologies on our website to gather data about our visitors' use of our website. We use this data to improve your experience of our website, to analyse the visitors' use of the site and to provide you with relevant, interest-based marketing.

We use Google Analytics to provide us with information about your visit to our website. We do this in order to help improve our website service to customers. Their cookies typically store anonymous aggregated information such as whether a visitor has been to the site before, and the time of the current visit.

We or our third party advertisers may also use cookies to monitor the effectiveness of advertising on the site.

Where our websites make use of a 3rd party live chat service provided by Giosg, this service makes use of cookies for personalisation and analytics, tracking and storage of data including IP address, content of chat conversations, visited URLs, referrer URL, timestamp, operating system, device, browser. For further information please visit: <https://www.giosg.com/terms-of-service>

Where we use the Adfenix service to track traffic to our property pages in order to build audiences for our online advertising based upon how our visitors interact with our site, this service is used to promote the advertising of our properties and services through social media channels, including Facebook, using the Facebook pixel, and Twitter.

For more information on how you can opt out of advertising on these channels please visit:

How to change your cookie settings

You can stop cookies from being placed on your computer. However, if you do this for our website you will not be able to use some of the online services we offer, for example it would not be possible to manage your accounts online or to apply for an account online.

If you want to change your cookie settings, you will need to change the cookie settings in your web browser. Each web browser is different, and you can find out how to do this in your browser's help section.

Alternatively, you can visit <http://aboutcookies.org.uk/managing-cookies> where you can find specific information about cookies and how to manage them to suit your preferences. However, please be aware that disabling cookies will make browsing our website much slower and may mean that some of our online services will not work.
